NEWS FROM THE HYDRANT

The Bryant FD began required testing of all city fire hydrants recently. This process will take several weeks to complete. You may notice some discoloration of water during this time. This is perfectly normal with any water distribution system and poses no health issues to be concerned about. While fire personnel are in the area testing hydrants, try to avoid any washing of light colored clothing. If cloudiness of water is observed, open all your cold water faucets and run the water for a few min to clear it up. This may need to be done a couple of times.

FD personnel test hydrants annually for ISO purposes and to ensure there are no issues with the hydrants and water system when needed for an emergency. Thanks for your cooperation!
